

Composting and Austrian Scythe Workshop

Monday, August 6
6 PM
Prairie Farm

Learn how to make
'black gold'
for your garden

Jonathan Rivin

Composting Expert Jonathan Rivin
from UW-Stevens Point and
One Scythe Revolution's
Botan Anderson
Will show us how to harvest and make compost

Botan Anderson

Held rain or shine! Please plan to dress for the weather. Bring a lawn chair.

Held at the home and gardens of Judy Ferber and Willie Williams
From the intersection of Highways F and A in Prairie Farm, head east for three blocks on A.
Turn right/south onto East Hepburn Street, and go to 610 East Hepburn Street.
....the place with the little red barn.....

These talented men are donating their time for the workshop. If you are so inclined, please bring along some garden produce or other gifts from your home or gardens.

Fresh, local foods are the best!

The workshop is co-sponsored by the Hay River Transition Initiative (HRTI), Northwest Wisconsin Regional Food Network, and the UW-Extension.

For more information please contact Judy Ferber, Everything Gardens Coordinator, at 715-455-2049, jferber@chibardun.net,

and see the HRTI website at www.hayriverti.org